

Success Stories

“I met Eric Werny of Utah Consulting at a business networking meeting. He helped us in more ways than one. Eric was indispensable in recovering our website and ensuring that we had complete control of it. He then helped us set up our network so that we could work from home if necessary. He guided us to know what computer technology was needed and where we could purchase computers at a reasonable price. Eric made certain that everything run smoothly in our office. Now, any time we have a questions we call Eric Werny. He is friendly and easy to work with. He thoroughly enjoys what he does and he explains things on my level of understanding. I trust him completely! That’s saying a lot because he has access to nearly every aspect of my business.” – Dr. Joesph Fife – Paradise Canyon Eye Care. Utah Consulting has assisted Dr. Fife concerning HIPPA compliance issues with his computer network and critical decision concerning web presence and the generation of referral. We have assisted Dr. Fife in doubling his patient load.”

“Working with Eric of Utah Consulting is a great experience. We know each other for a number of years we have had numerous successful business dealings. I would not hesitate for a moment to recommend him to anyone. Each issue we have encountered, no matter what it has been, computer/networking/web page, etc. Eric has always had the right answer. He has always taken the time necessary to truly understand the issue and has always gone the extra mile to figure out the best and most economical way to help us accomplish each goal. I trust him completely and am thankful for his help, expertise and friendship.”

“I was in desperate need as I had lost my domain and website. Eric had seen my post on my social media and reached out to me and let me know he could help. Of course a couple of the things he advised were beyond my knowledge of website ability’s, so he offered to rebuild my website for me and get it going so I could sell my products. He also offered some new ideas on things I hadn’t done before to spice things up. Then when it was complete he sat down with me and showed me some tips on how to do things on my own which I really appreciated it. I mean who does that? Most companies just want more money from you and make you feel like you need them for everything! I feel he was very honest with me and completed everything in a timely manner. You won’t be disappointed! Give him a call.”

“I was referred to Eric by Jeffrey Mather from the small business development center at Dixie State University and he told me that Eric could really help me map out my business goals and help me with a few key things that I needed to do for my business to start growing. From the day I contacted him he has gone the extra mile to help me with my website through phone calls and emails and he’s been such a great support for my business. He’s always so willing to do research on whatever questions I have and is very encouraging and motivating. I feel so blessed to have gotten in contact with him and if anyone needs help with their business he’s the one to get in touch with.”
